

Center for Clinical and Translational Research

Home Resources Clinical Research Services Community Engagement Informatics Research Incubator Education

Bio nutrition

Overview

VCU vision for clinical trials

What is a clinical trial?

Services

- Protocol evaluation and recruitment planning
- Budget development and negotiation services
- Sponsor placement of clinical trials
- IRB for industry-sponsored trials
- Clinical research coordinator services
- Clinical research facility
- Nursing services
- Bio nutrition
- CRS laboratory services
- Research team education and training
- Quality assurance

For study participants

For sponsors

For research teams

OnCore

Coordinator Corner

CRS key contacts

Cite the grant

The CRS registered dietician can assist with formulation and preparation of experimental diets, dietary analysis (Nutrition Data System for Research), anthropometric measurements and patient consultations. A metabolic kitchen is available for food preparation if needed and can provide standard meals or specialized diets.

For more information, contact Sakita Sistrun, M.S., R.D., at (804) 828-9226 or email ssistrun@mcvh-vcu.edu. To request bio nutrition services, please fill out this form or email CRSIntake@vcu.edu.

How can we help you?

Virginia Commonwealth University
Office of Research
Center for Clinical and Translational
Research
Richmond Academy of Medicine
Updated: 08/16/2013

1200 East Clay Street
P.O. Box 980261
Richmond, Virginia 23298-0261
Phone: (804) 827-0472
Email: cctrweb@vcu.edu
Created by VCU University Relations

CTSA Clinical & Translational[®]
Science Awards

The VCU CCTR is part of a national CTSA consortium and is supported by award No. UL1TR000058 from the National Institutes of Health's National Center for Advancing Translational Science.